

#47 your favourite room in the house and why you love it

// For the next 50 days I am doing Fat Mum Slim's 50 things to blog about challenge - in no particular order

Today's is #47 - Share your favourite room in your house and why you love it.

If you are a regular reader you will be well aware we've been renovating. We are almost finished, in fact it might even be all done in a couple of weeks...although we are toying with the idea of doing the bathroom. Suckers for punishment!

My favourite room in our new house is the kitchen! One of our friends Muz designed it and put most of it together for us and it is...amazing. All of it, but the thing I love most is this (best demonstrated by video).

Yep, the bin is my favourite feature. I find it very satisfying!
