

#34 Who people think you are, compared to who you really are

// Over 50 days (or so) I am doing Fat Mum Slim's 50 things to blog about challenge - in no particular order.

Today's post is #34 – who people think you are compared to who you really are

I'm really pushing the 'over 50 days or so' part of this challenge but its my challenge so I'll take as long as I want. You'd think if I was making you wait for it, I'd be giving you something good to read - not so! Lets just get it over with Anyway, who people think you are compared to who you really are. Another narcissistic post I reckon. Another opportunity to talk about ME woo hoo.

I honestly don't know what the answer to this question is, I think I'm very much what you see is what you get!

I had a friend tell me the other night she thought I was very relaxed and had the whole Mum thing under control. Which made me laugh a lot. A LOT. But comments like that make me remember that i need to have some self confidence and remember just because you think or feel like you are a huge goose, not everyone sees you that way. Act the way you want to feel! Or as Anna on the OC says "confidence Cohen".

There you go - an inspirational post for you all. Act the way you want to feel. You heard it here first.

Now go and be confident! And lets hope my next post is more interesting...
